138. Mumbai University – Recognition of M.D.(General Medicine) qualifications in respect of students being trained at K.J. Somaiya Medical College & Research Centre, Mumbai.

Read : The compliance verification report (Feb, 2008) together with the inspection report (July 2006) carried out to assess the standard of examination and other teaching facilities available at K.J. Somaiya Medical College & Research Centre, Mumbai for purpose of recognition of M.D. (General Medicine) qualification granted by Mumbai University.

The Postgraduate Committee considered the compliance verification inspection report (Feb, 2008) together with the inspection report (July 2006) and decided not to recognize M.D. (General Medicine) qualification granted by Mumbai University in respect of students being trained at K.J. Somaiya Medical College & Research Centre, Mumbai because of the following:-

1. Bed occupancy was 30%-40% in different medical wards at the time of inspection as large number of beds were found to be vacant. 20 beds in casualty were all vacant. There were no patients or residents in the casualty. There was only 1 Anaesthesia Resident present in the minor OT attached to casualty.
2. The number of radiological investigations and laboratory investigations are inadequate and not commensurate with the number of patients claimed to have been attending the hospital. (X-ray Investigations less than 60 per day, CT Scan-Nil, Histopathology 6 per day, Cytopathology 6 per day)

3. Perusal of casualty records of the previous days revealed that there were occasional medical emergencies being treated. Most of attending patients had trivial problems like suture removal, dressing, incision & drainage, abdominal pain, etc. not related with medical emergencies.
4. Unit-I does not have Assoc.Prof. Dr. B.C. Chawla, Asstt. Prof. in Unit-III does not possess prescribed academic qualification. Hence, teaching faculty component is inadequate in Units I & III.
5. There is no Senior Resident in Unit II and Unit III against the requirement of 1 Sr. Resident in each unit.
6. Resultantly, components of teaching faculty and residents are inadequate.
7. It seems that full time teachers are only 3. As per the inspector's observations, others seem to be working part time judged on the basis of salary paid to the teacher and as per verbal communications. There is also mismatch in the data supplied by the institute and the documents furnished at the time of inspection:-
 - (a) Dr. Amol Manerkar has been shown as having been employed as Asstt. Prof. w.e.f. 22.10.2003. However, the TDS for the year 2006-07 does not show any remuneration being paid to him. No emoluments have been paid to him from the institute during the whole year of 2007.
 - (b) Dr. Vijay Panikar – It is claimed that his salary is Rs. 8,000/- p.m. However, Form No.16 given to him for the year 2006-07 shows his salary as Rs. 56021/- for the whole year.
 - (c) Dr. S.K. Bichile is claimed to have been employed by this Institute from 1.4.2007 as Assoc. Prof. However, no remuneration has been shown as having been paid to him during the period April to December, 2007.
 - (d) Dr. R.R. Uchil, Asstt. Prof. is claimed to have been employed in the institute w.e.f. 1.6.2002 on a salary of Rs. 8,000/- p.m. However, Form No. 16 for the year 1.4.2006 to 31.3.2007 shows Rs. 26555/- have been paid to him by the institute for the whole financial year.
 - (e) Dr. Sunil Dubey, Asstt. Prof. is in the continuous employment of the Institute from 14.2.2005 at present on a salary of Rs. 8,000/-. However, in the Form No. 16 issued to him for the period 1.4.2006 to 31.3.2007, he has been shown as Hon. Assoc.Professor and only a total remuneration of Rs. 36600/- is paid to him for the whole financial year.
 - (f) Dr. Kaustubh Vaidya is on continuous employment of the Institute w.e.f. 1.4.2006 as Asstt. Professor on a salary of Rs. 8,000/-. However, the Form No. 16 issued to him it is shown that only Rs. 64,000/- has been paid for the whole financial year.
8. Central oxygen supply is not available in all the medical wards.
9. CT machine is yet to become functional. New equipment is also not functional.
10. Only basic laboratory facilities are available in the hospital. Specialized investigations like immunological, microbiological, biochemical & pathological tests are not available in the hospital.
11. There is no research laboratory.
12. Lecture theatres do not have adequate audiovisual facilities.
13. The Office space for the faculty is very limited. There are only 3 small cabin in the department although there are 11 faculty members on the roll.
14. Library has limited books related to medicine and allied specialities. There is no training in research methodology and critical review of literature which are desirable.

15. PG students do not rotate to TB & Chest department.
16. There are no research facilities in terms of infrastructure. No research publications had been made by any of the faculty in last 3 member in last 3 years.
17. Other deficiencies as pointed out in the inspection report.

In view of above, the Committee further decided to direct the institution authorities to henceforth stop admissions in M.D.(General Medicine) course from the academic session 2008-2009.

Read : The letter dated 20.08.2007 from the Principal & Controller, RNT Medical College, Udaipur regarding recognition of MD (Pathology & Microbiology) qualification granted by Rajasthan University.

The Postgraduate Committee observed that M.D.(Pathology & Bacteriology) of this college was recognized by MCI but University of Rajasthan changed the nomenclature of M.D.(Pathology & Bacteriology) to M.D.(Pathology & Microbiology) since 1976 onwards. The department of Pathology & Microbiology bifurcated into separate departments of Pathology & Microbiology in 1983. Thus a MCI inspection of M.D.(Pathology & Microbiology) could not take place.

The Principal, RNT Medical College, Udaipur vide his another letter dated 14.12.2007 has informed that the first degree by nomenclature of M.D.(Pathology & Microbiology) was awarded in September, 1974 and the last degree was awarded in June, 1985.

Super Speciality DM (Pulmonary & Critical Care Medicine)

The technology of medical education is an ever changing spiral of objective, curriculum and evaluation. It is a dynamic process in which both the objectives and the curricula are defined based on the medical needs of the society which keep on changing with time. There have been major advancements in medical care in the last two to three decades.

Developments in major specialities of medicine in India have either paralleled or followed the global pattern of the developed countries.

Burden of lung diseases :

Lung diseases is a major cause of morbidity and mortality all over the world. In India tuberculosis is prevalent.

Besides tuberculosis, there is a heavy burden of non-tuberculous lung disease. Diseases such as bronchial asthma, chronic bronchitis, respiratory infections, lung cancer and others, account for about 70 percent of the lung diseases seen in any large hospital in India. Asthma may affect 3-5 percent of adults and about 5-7 percent of children. Prevalence of occupational and environmental hazards has also increased. The brunt of all these disasters is primarily borne by the lungs. Tobacco-smoking, a widely prevalent habit is another major cause of many lung diseases in India. It is responsible for 7 to 13 million patients of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) and 0.11 to 0.21 million COPD deaths.

Diagnostic and therapeutic aids:

There is a greater requirement of comprehensive approach to the disease-state. Both non-invasive (such as immunological, Microbiological and radiological) and invasive specialized procedures are required more often. Lung function test laboratory has greatly increased in scope with additions of plethysmography, exercise-testing and assessment of sleep disorders to the routine spirometry and diffusion testing. Cardiac and pulmonary vascular circulation and its assessment with specialized techniques is an area of great importance for the pulmonologist as much as the cardiologists. Radiological imaging and nuclear scanning have tremendously boosted the diagnostic techniques. Bronchoendoscopy, Thoracoscopy and endoscopic techniques including bronchoalveolar lavage, transbronchial procedures and endoscopic therapeutic applications are available more frequently. Respiratory resuscitation and therapy including critical care is a subspeciality within the broad speciality. It has, therefore, become essential that the specialist is trained in most of the areas and introduced to the others.

Respiratory Critical Care:

Respiratory resuscitation and mechanical ventilation was perhaps the earliest form of assisted life support. Although critical care is a multi-disciplinary Speciality in modern medicine, it has a special relationship with pulmonary medicine. This is perhaps attributed to the almost invariable involvement of the lungs in a critically ill patient and the requirement of respiratory care including oxygen therapy and assisted ventilation.

Objectives of training :

In pulmonary and critical care medicine the trained specialist must possess a comprehensive perspective of different areas and hands on training of different techniques. It is proposed that the following objectives be focused during the training programmes in this country.

OBJECTIVES:

At the end of the training, a trainee in pulmonary medicine should be able to act as a consultant in pulmonary and critical care.

Primary objectives: He/She should be able to :-

- i. Diagnose and manage independently :

 - a. Lung diseases especially pulmonary tuberculosis.*
 - b. Other common medical ailments.*
 - c. Pulmonary problems of specialized nature related to industry, environment, high-altitude, aviation, under-water conditions and drowning.
- ii. Resuscitate the critically ill and provide comprehensive respiratory care and support including assisted ventilation.*
- iii. Diagnose and manage independently medical emergencies especially those involving the respiratory system.*
- iv. Adopt preventive measures at individual and community level against the commonly prevalent preventable medical and lung diseases.*

Secondary objectives :- He/She should be able to perform and interpret:

- i. Various besides procedures required in medical management of patients.*
- ii. Specialised procedures for diagnosis and management of lung diseases (such as fiberoptic bronchoendoscopy, bronchography, lung and pleural biopsies, thoracocentesis and thoracostomy).*
- iii. Comprehensive lung function studies including spirometry diffusion-studies, airway-resistance and compliance, body plethysmography and blood gas analysis, exercise testing and polysomnography.*
- iv. Allergy and broncho-provocation tests.*

In addition, he/she should be able to interpret:

- i. Radiographic and scanning images and perform intervention radiographic procedures of thorax.
- ii. Specialised investigations for sister-specialities such as cardiaccatheterization, other endoscopies, body-scans and angiographic procedures.
- iii. Microbiological, histological and cytological specimens of lung diseases.

GOAL:

The goal of medical education for the award of DM(Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine) shall be to produce competent specialists and/or Medical teachers in the field of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine.

- i. Who shall have mastered the competencies, pertaining to Pulmonary Medicine.
- ii. Who shall acquire basic skill in teaching of Critical Care Medicine.
- iii. Diagnosed and managed majority of the conditions in the Pulmonary and Critical Care diseases on the basis of clinical assessment and appropriately selected and conducted investigations.
- iv. At the end of training, he should able to manage all type of pulomary problems in addition related to industry, environment, high altitudes, aviation, underwater conditions and drowning.
- v. In Critical Care, he should also be able to provide assisted respiratory support i.e. (Ventilation [Non-invasive, Invasive] on long term basis.)
- vi. He should be able to do bed side blood gas analysis and electrolyte management subject to the blood level.
- vii. He should also able to do specialized procedure i.e. fibre-optic bronchoscopy/thoracocentists/thoracostomy and various biopsies, Central venous catheterization.

(General Surgery) qualification granted by Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences, Bangalore.

The Postgraduate Committee considered the compliance verification inspection report (February, 2008) together with the Council Inspector report (October, 2006) and decided not to approve Al-Ameen Medical College, Bijapur for the award of M.S. (General Surgery) qualification granted by Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences, Bangalore because of the following-

1. Clinical material is inadequate (bed occupancy 60%). Operative workload (all departments including Surgery, Major:5-6/day; Minor 3-4/day) is also inadequate. Overall, very low number of Surgical patients are available for teaching. Increase in OPD attendance has not resulted in any significant increase in operative workload or increase in variety of clinical cases.

Documentary proof like proof of residence, Form 16, experience certificates etc. in respect of many faculty members presented on the day of inspection was not provided to ascertain whether they are actually full time staff. Prof. were not available even though they are claimed to be employed for more than a year by the institute. The names of some of the teachers do not figure or figure infrequently in OT registers.

177. Postgraduate Courses permitted under Section 10 (A) but not recognized due to various deficiencies when the first batch appeared for final examination.

Read : The matter with regard to postgraduate courses permitted under Section 10A but not recognized due to various deficiencies when the first batch appeared for final examination.

The members of the Postgraduate Committee while deliberating upon the matter at length observed that clause 6 of the Postgraduate Medical Education Regulations, 2000 reads as under: -

6. STARTING OF POSTGRADUATE MEDICAL COURSES AND THEIR RECOGNITION.

- (1) An institution intending to start a Postgraduate Medical Education Course or to increase the admission capacity shall obtain permission of the Central Government u/s 10A of the Act.
- (2) The institution shall apply for recognition of the postgraduate medical qualification to the Central Govt. through the affiliating University.

It was further observed that the Ministry of Health & F.W., Govt. of India being conscious and in compliance with the above mentioned statutory Regulations while issuing the Letters of Permissions on the recommendations of the Council for starting of various postgraduate medical courses including the requests for increase in the annual intake had itself stipulated in all such permissions that the concerned medical colleges/institutions would be entitled to make admissions in postgraduate medical courses only till such time the first batch admitted in the postgraduate course undergoes the final examination conducted by the affiliating university. This is so because the statutory and mandatory Regulations demand that the medical college/institution concerned to approach the Govt. of India through the affiliating university for evaluation of its final examination of the postgraduate medical courses for grant of recognition. As a matter of an example, the text of the stipulation imposed by the Govt. of India in each of such permissions issued by it reads as under:-

“This permission for starting of the above course(s) and admission of students will be till such time the first batch of students admitted against the above course(s) appears for the first final examination in the respective subject and thereafter the college authorities may take up the matter of recognition of the qualifications under section 11(2) of the IMC Act.”

It was further observed that in view of above, each of such permission granted by the Ministry for starting a postgraduate medical course or for seeking increase in the annual intake automatically comes to an end when the first batch admitted under the Letter of Permission appears in the final examination conducted by the affiliating university. No further admissions in those postgraduate courses can be made by the institute on the strength of the Letter of Permission granted initially by the Central Govt. for starting the courses or for increase in the annual intake.

The members of the Postgraduate Committee further observed that the following institutes have not yet been recognized/approved by the Council for the award of respective postgraduate medical courses being conducted in the institute on account of several deficiencies of the teaching faculty, clinical material and other infrastructure persisting in such institutions:-

The members of the Postgraduate Committee further observed that the Council is duty bound and obliged to ensure faithful implementation of the Scheme u/s 10A of the Act and the Regulations framed there-under and to follow the directives of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in this regard.

In view of above and in accordance with the Letter of Permission issued by the Central Govt., the members of the Postgraduate Committee decided that the above mentioned institutes be directed to stop admissions in the above courses with immediate effect and send confirmation in this regard. A copy of the letter may also be sent to the Vice-Chancellor of the University to which the institution is affiliated and the DME of the State where it is located.

178. Permission granted by the Central Govt. under Section 10(A) of the IMC Act, 1956 for starting/increase of seats of various PG courses in different colleges but request under Section 11(2) for recognition/approval have not yet been received.

Read : The matter with regard to permission granted by the Central Govt. under Section 10A of the I.M.C. Act, 1956 for recognition/approval of the said courses have not yet been received.

The members of the Postgraduate Committee while deliberating upon the matter at length observed that clause 6 of the Postgraduate Medical Education Regulations, 2000 reads as under:-

No further admissions in those postgraduate courses can be made by the institute on the strength of the Letter of Permission granted initially by the Central Govt. for starting the courses or for increase in the annual intake.

The members of the Postgraduate Committee further observed that the following institutes have failed to approach the Govt. of India through the affiliating universities in terms of Regulation 6(2) for grant of recognition of the Postgraduate Medical Education Regulations, 2000 which being statutory Regulation is mandatory and binding in character.
